3 PROGRESS MONITORING ELD BENCHMARKS

Success with C2L is centered around the 3 ELD Progress Monitoring Benchmarks students take throughout the year which generate 3 corresponding Personalized Learning Plans (PLPs) and class grouping reports.

Planning Instruction for Emergent Bilingual Students

Goals & Objectives

Providing explicit instruction for students should involve clear explanations, modeling, and guided practice, gradually releasing responsibility to students as they gain proficiency.

Engagement & Participation

It should incorporate scaffolding, feedback, and opportunities for independent application of language skills. It provides structured support and fosters independence, enhancing language acquisition and comprehension.

Model & Guided Practice

Assessment & Extension

Independent Practice & Output

Guiding Questions:

- Does the modeling include think aloud and written steps that are comprehensible for students' independent application?
- Are there opportunities to check for understanding throughout the lesson?
- What scaffolds will be included to support gradual release of responsibility?

Secondary Implementation Models

Option C—Double Period ELD

Computer Workstation

Routine for Double Period ELD

ELD instruction is designed to rapidly master the English language, focusing on reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills. ELD courses usually begin with extensive listening and speaking practice, building on auditory and oral skills and supporting reading and writing development.

A. Whole Group: Teacher selects audio or video model speaking/writing (7-10 mins) and teacher models/practices together with students (1-2 mins) plus students engage in the CIL as directed by their PLP (20 mins).

B. Whole Group: Teacher selects audio or video model speaking/writing (7-10 mins) or teacher models/practices together with students (1-2 mins) plus students engage CIL as directed by their PLP (20-40 mins).

C. Whole Group: Teacher models speaking/writing (7-10 mins) plus students engage CIL as directed by their PLP (20-40 mins).

Be explicit and interactive with students. This routine offers more opportunities for students to enhance their oracy skills through reading, writing, and speaking. These methods help students apply transferable skills in both collaborative and individual settings.

Transfer charts are co-constructed with the student using words that come from the same content or topic.

Exemplar Response

The graph shows me the places that Mr. Moriarti's students think are best to have a birthday party. His students said the park, home, pool, restaurant, and movie theater. Mr. Moriarti probably created this graph by asking the students to give the location of the best birthday parties they had ever been to. He then counted their votes and put the information in the bar graph.

I can conclude that Mr. Moriarti's students think the pool is the best place for a birthday party, with fifteen votes. The park was the second favorite location with eleven votes, and the restaurant was the least favorite with only four votes.

My best birthday party was at my apartment complex pool. My birthday is in August when it is really hot, which made my birthday pool party the best place to be! It was so much fun to splash around with my family and friends. When we were finished playing in the pool, we went to the clubhouse, cut the cake, and opened presents.

YEAR-ROUND ELD AND TELPAS READINESS

C2L is designed to ensure the best TELPAS outcomes for students. One of the many ways C2L prepares students is by modeling our assessments after the 30 unique TELPAS question types.

Good Nutrition

1 What are you going to have for lunch? The foods and beverages that you consume have a profound impact on your health. Therefore, choosing what to have for lunch is an important decision. Choosing wisely can help you achieve and maintain good health. It can also reduce your chances of developing chronic diseases like heart disease and diabetes.

2 Food contains nutrients that give your body energy and other things it needs. The four most important nutrients are water, carbohydrates, proteins, and fat.

Click on the highlighted phrase or word in paragraph 3 that best helps the reader understand the meaning of replenish.

Your body contains over sixty percent water. Water works in your body in many important ways. It moistens tissues in your eyes, nose, and mouth. It lubricates your joints. It carries nutrients and oxygen in and out of your cells. Your body loses water through everyday activities, so it's important to replenish that water. The easiest way to do this is by actually drinking water. You can also eat foods that are higher in water, such as cucumbers, watermelon, and apples. Some people use chunks of these fruits and vegetables to enhance the flavor of plain water.

LANGUAGE FOUNDATIONAL SKILLS CREATED THROUGH A MULTILINGUAL LENS

Based on the Science of Reading for Multilingual Learners, C2L employs an asset-based instructional design, offering EBs ample chances to listen, read, speak, and write at their current language development levels while gradually increasing the linguistic complexity of the academic language they read and hear, and are expected to speak and write.

Using a functional approach to language development, C2L focuses on the purposeful use of language. A comprehensive instructional approach connects the language and code-based skills necessary to build upon EBs broad language-based skills and related knowledge.

First, students are introduced to the phoneme and shown the articulatory gestures.

Next, students are instructed to practice making the sound and sense how making the sound feels.

After being shown a visual of a practice word, students practice segmenting and blending.

Next, the practice word is given additional context through an image and a full sentence.
